REGINA, Jan. 9.

The license bill is in committee of the whole. The bill is declared by the introducer to be a license not to restrict the liquor traffic. The hotel licenses require ten bedrooms in town and three in the country, with stabling for six horses in the country. Wholesale license includes the sale down to a quart in bottles or half a gallon in bulk. The fee for hotel and wholesale license will be $200. There is no population limit, and the number of licenses to be decided by the supply and demand and the ability to put up license fees. No restaurant or saloon licenses. The bill is being rushed through and will be finished early next week. The session will probably close the week after.

Mrs. George Sutherland, of the Sturgeon river settlement, died on Thursday the 7th inst. at 6:30 a.m. The deceased has been sick for over a month, and Mr. Sutherland and family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their terrible bereavement.

The electric lighting of the town is nearly completed and everyone who has the light is very well pleased with it. It certainly is a great advance on coal oil. Several of the hotels have placed colored lamps over their doors which is quite an improvement to the town on dark nights.

The last weekly issue of The Dominion Illustrated has just been issued. Henceforth The Dominion Illustrated Monthly holds the boards, and will no doubt gain a far wider circle of readers than did the weekly. It will be a 64-page magazine, splendidly illustrated, and many of the best writers in Canada will contribute. The low price, $1.50 per year, places it within the reach of all. It will be purely Canadian in tone. The publishers ask for agents in every locality. Address the Sabiston Litho. & Pub. Co., Montreal.

THE Western World for December contains a view of buffaloes and domestic cows with their young ones; a herd of Polled Angus cattle on an Alberta ranch; Kananaskis falls, on C. P. R. near Banff; a bit of Vancouver, Stanley Park, Vancouver; barn yard scene in the Red River Valley; Dominion government buildings in Winnipeg; also a photograph of Charles Mair of Prince Albert and mayor Ruttan, of Port Arthur. The reading matter is of the best and well put together and the printing is good.

THE Dominion Illustrated of December 26th has photographs of the late Lieut.-Col. Coffin. Mr. John Ruskin; the late Alex. Workman, of Ottawa; Brookfield bridge, Glasgow; a woman writing Christmas letters; the Bishop's College Grammar School, Lennoxville, P. Q.; Lake Louise, near Banff, Alberta; Castle Mountain, B. C.; The Indian Pilot; a view at Ottawa, 24th May, 1867; an old time plan of the city of Montreal; an old mill on the Ottawa river; In the Lover's Walk, Ottawa, a review of the Hamilton field battery camp; and two magnificent pictures of "Le Nid," (from the statuary Croisy in the Luxembourg gallery; and "Sans Asile," after the statue of Fernand Dubois. The reading matter is up to the standard in every particular, and the printing could not be better. This is the last number of the weekly Dominion Illustrated, which will hereafter come out as the Dominion Illustrated Monthly.

EDMONTON, SATURDAY, JANUARY 9TH, 1892.

THE LICENSE ACT.

We have received from Regina a copy of the proposed ordinance respecting the sale of intoxicating drinks and the issue of licenses therefor.

Section 4. Provides for the establishment of license districts by the governor-in-council.

Section 5. Provides for a board of three license commissioners for each license district, two of whom shall form a quorum. The appointment shall be honorary and without any remuneration, except travelling expenses and the office will expire on the 31st of every December but they may be re-appointed.

Section 6. Provides for the appointment of a chief inspector of licenses for the Territories by the governor in council who will also fix his salary.

Section 7. Provides that one or more inspectors shall be appointed for each district by the board of license commissioners at a salary to be fixed by the board subject to the approval of the governor-in-council.

Section 8. Provides that any monies payable as fees under this ordinance shall be paid to such officer as the governor-in-council may direct.

Section 9. Provides for the issue of licenses to hotels, restaurants in municipalities and wholesale licenses.

A restaurant license authorizes the holder to sell and dispose of liquors by retail provided that no such license shall be granted until the premises have been inspected and found to contain a suitable dining room, kitchen and necessary appliances and until a certificate has been filed with the inspector signed by 10 resident ratepayers assessed on the last assessment roll for $1200 or upwards certifying that said restaurant is desirable for the purpose of providing and furnishing meals for the public during the existence of said license.

Every application for a license must be accompanied by a fee of $10 and a list of said applications published in the newspaper. Any five of the twenty householders residing nearest to the applicant's premises may, on various grounds, object to such license being granted on payment of a fee of $10, and if said protest is successful the $10 will be returned.

The recommendation of 10 out of the nearest 20 householders are necessary to secure a license outside a municipality.

The following are the fees to be paid to the Territories' general revenue fund: hotel license, $200; restaurant, license, $300; wholesale license, $200. In addition to these amounts the municipalities where such licenses are granted may, by by-law, require the licensee to pay such sum as they may determine, not exceeding the amount of the Territorial duty payable on same.

In bottling works where only ale or lager is bottled the license fee shall be one half of the fees payable for the wholesale license.

There is also an option clause which provides that no license shall be granted when a majority of three-fifths of the electors of a license district who have voted at a poll have declared themselves in favor of the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors in their district and against the issue of licenses. Every provision is made for the holding of such poll, the vote for which shall be by ballot under the provisions of the Canada Temperance Act. Provisions are made for the transfer of a license from one owner to another.

A copy of the license must be posted in a conspicuous place on the premises under a severe penalty, and the words "license to sell spirituous or fermented liquors" must be exhibited in large letters over the door.

Not more than one bar is to be kept in any one house.

No liquor is to be sold by any restaurant or hotel between the hours of ten o'clock on Saturday to 7 o'clock on Monday morning thereafter, nor after the hour of half past eleven at night until six o'clock the following morning on the other nights of the week. On Sundays guests may be served with liquor at their meals between the hours of 1 and 3 and 5 and 7 in the afternoon.

There are a number of useful provisions respecting drunkenness, the selling of liquor to people already under the influence, gambling in hotels, etc.

THE TERRITORIAL CABINET.

The Regina Standard, of January 1st, contains the following:

The first responsible cabinet of the Western Territories of Canada has been formed, on constitutional lines and in accordance with precedent usage. His honor the lieutenant-governor a day or two ago, committed to the member for Macleod the task of selecting for his honor, in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance respecting executive government for the Territories, a board of advisers responsible to and possessing the confidence of the people's representatives in the assembly, and in this Mr. Haultain has succeeded. The personnel of this first executive government is such that it must prove highly acceptable to the country generally, and it should long continue to possess the confidence of the house.

Mr. Haultain, the premier, although quite a young man, has already earned an enviable reputation as an able lawyer, a shrewd parliamentarian, and an excellent debator. His new relationship to the house and to the country as a whole, will put his executive ability, as well as his tact and leadership, to the severest test, but we feel confident that he will prove fully equal to the exigencies of his somewhat critical position.

Mr. John Ryerson Neff, the gentleman whom the Moosomin district has twice honored by electing him by acclamation has, we are glad to learn, been chosen by Mr. Haultain, to become one of his honors responsible advisers. In this he showed commendable foresight, for in point of sound, practical business ability an abler man than Mr. Neff does not sit in that assembly. He has abundant faith in this great country, and has, in the face of reverses and discouragements which would have proven fatal to a less resolute man, acquired phenomenal success. This in itself should mark him as one eminently fitted to be entrusted with the responsibility of public affairs. But in addition to this he has shown himself a reasonable and prudent member of the house, an uncompromising advocate of popular rights, and a debater of no mean powers. His fellow-members from Eastern Assiniboia, recognizing his fitness are, we believe, unanimous in their support of him—a fact which must be a source of great gratification to himself and pride to his constituents. To a man of his activity in business, politics cannot be remunerative, but whatever he may lose in this respect will be compensated in another direction, for although he does not possess a vaulting ambition, he is not regardless of honors which attach to men who serve their country faithfully and well.

Mr. Thomas Tweed is a popular gentleman in the house and out of it. His ability and success in business are well known. We had the pleasure of intimate relationship with him during the election campaign of last winter, and learned, as did many others to whom he was equally a stranger, to esteem and respect him. Mr. Tweed is an unassuming courteous and kind, a ready, pleasing and convincing speaker, well versed in parliamentary procedure and therefore possessed of the qualities essential to political success.

Of Mr. Clinksill we do not personally know much; but those who know him best speak very highly of him. He is a successful merchant of Battleford; is now serving his second term in the assembly; and has made a favorable impression as is evidenced particularly by the fact of his being chosen to become a member of this executive.

In view of the great number of gentlemen in the present assembly who have qualifications which fit them to be members of the executive, Mr. Haultain, no doubt, found his task an arduous one. We should have been pleased to see Mr. Cayley on the executive. His fitness has long been plain to the public, and we are sure that none realize it more fully than do Mr. Haultain and his colleagues. But there appears to have been a tacit understanding that each of the four Territorial districts should be represented in the government, and when we consider the vast area of these districts and their somewhat different interests, the idea of representation for each commends itself.

It may well be the earnest desire of every well-wisher of our new country that no factious opposition may arise, but that the assembly as a whole will give the new government a fair and unbiassed trial, and ample opportunity to prove the advantages of our economic semi-provincial system of self government. We have now a system which is virtually tantamount to provincial autonomy, without the expensive paraphernalia usually connected therewith. The late house was unanimous in demanding this, and it becomes the bounden duty of the present one to endeavor to make it a success and to prove to the federal authorities that we are quite worthy to be entrusted with greater responsibility and powers so soon as our circumstances demand them.

BRIBERY ON BOTH SIDES.

The record of the federal election contests so far has been a fine exhibit of the corrupt manner in which the last general elections were conducted. Of forty-three Conservative seats contested thirty-four have been settled, one by death (Kingston), nine by the members returned being unseated for some cause or other, and twenty-four by the sitting member being confirmed in his seat. Nine cases remain to be tried. Of the sixty-four Liberal seats contested, forty-two cases have come to trial, with the result that seventeen members of the opposition have been unseated for bribery (one of whom has been disqualified); five have been tried and judgment suspended, and twenty confirmed in their seats. Twenty-two cases have yet to be tried. It will thus be seen that of the Conservatives tried 27 per cent. have been unseated, while of the Liberals over 40 per cent. have been forced to step down and out for bribery. There are now 29 seats vacant, 26 of them as the result of the trials of election petitions, one (Kingston) by death, one (North Laramie) by appointment of Mr. Jamieson to the bench, and one (Richelieu) by the resignation of Sir Hector Langevin. It is quite probable that at least 15 seats, including those cases already tried and judgment upon which is reserved, will yet be voided, causing over 40 by-elections before the next session of parliament.

RUSSIA'S TERRIBLE CONDITION.

The prison at Samara, built to hold 200, is now crowded with thousands of unfortunates, among whom typhus and typhoid fever are rife. The doctors are in despair and have not visited their charges for months. A rapid increase in the number of deaths, due to the famine, is reported to the authorities. The government is dispatching troops to the district where riots are likely to break out. Government officials now refuse to grant permission for private distributions of food or the opening of soup kitchens. All rations must be given through officials in the name of the Czar. Moscow is threatened with an epidemic of small pox. Twenty new cases are reported there daily.

The thermometer was 48 below in Regina on Christmas morning with a strong wind blowing

GENERAL NEWS.

A letter has been received by a friend in Woodstock, Ont., from Mrs. Birchall, dated Lancashire, England, in which she states that she has been suffering for some time with a tumor in the mouth.

A reciprocity arrangement has been entered into between secretary Blaine and the British minister to embrace the British West Indian colonies of Jamaica, Barbadoes and the Leeward and Windward Islands, except Grenada, Trinidad and the Colony of British Guiana.

George Douglas, the Indian in jail at Brantford, Ont., who is held in connection with the murder of Hislop, the old Dunceaster treasurer, has turned Queen's evidence and confessed all. The governor of the jail refuses to talk, but the rumor is generally credited.

A current rumor to the effect that D. H. Macdowell, M. P. for Saskatchewan, had resigned or would presently do so, has been contradicted by Mr. Macdowell himself, who says he has no immediate intention of placing his resignation in the hands of the Speaker.

H. O. Barrett, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' State bank, Ellendale, S. D., which assigned on the 24th December last, has been arrested charged with receiving deposits after he knew the bank was insolvent. Many ugly rumors are afloat in connection with the collapse of the bank.

At a mayoralty meeting in Toronto, on December 30th, Osler announced that he had made arrangements, on his recent trip to England, for the establishment of a great line of steamers to Niagara; and that the Canadian Pacific railway, of which he was a director, had resolved to build a great hotel here rivaling the Windsor in Montreal.

The U. S. post office department has issued orders that hereafter circulars having anything printed on them by a rubber stamp will have to be paid as first-class matter. The order is based upon the principle that the stamp is nothing more nor less than writing, from the fact it is used as a pen and the legends it produces are as individual as those of a pen.

Mrs. Mary Gillig, wife of President Gillig, of Gillig's exchange, Charing Cross, London, has been divorced from her husband in South Dakota. The application charged non support and desertion. Gillig filed an answer setting forth a mutual separation six years ago upon the discovery that his wife was intimate with a well-known London clergyman. The custody of their child was denied him.

The six members of parliament for British Columbia, Messrs. Earle, Gordon, Mara, Barnard, Corbould and Prior, sent a very attractive Christmas card to a number of their Ottawa friends. It consists of a shield, on which appear the photographs of the six members splendidly executed, and in the centre the words, "We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

The Calgary Herald understands that a representative of a large Montreal firm will shortly arrive in Calgary for the purpose of establishing a brewery. Samples of Calgary (Bow river) water were sent to Montreal for the purpose of being analysed to ascertain whether or not it would answer all brewing purposes, and it was found to be of a very superior quality for use in the manufacture of beer.

Two laborers working on the World's Fair buildings in Chicago recently got into a dispute over the question as to what nationality Christopher Columbus was. One of the men, an Irishman, claimed that Chris was Irish. The other, a Swede, claimed that the discoverer of this country was of his nationality. The war of words finally led to blows, and the result was that both men were hauled up and fined. An American exchange says the incident goes to show that the World's Fair is an educator in historical matters.

Thompson and Tupper spoke at Almonte, Ont., on December 30th, in support of Rosamond for North Lanark. Thompson announced it to be part of the government's policy to open up railways all over the country and encourage trade in other directions and ways; with the United States too, if it could be done through fair reciprocal measures. Both held that if annexation were not the real object of the Liberal policy—and they almost believed it was—it would certainly result in annexation if it could be carried out. Tupper blamed the speeches of Goldwin Smith and others for the McKinley bill.

There is great activity at the military headquarters, San Antonio, Texas, U. S. The two troops of cavalry that have been ordered on the scene of the war on the frontier by Gen. Stanley, will leave on a special train. They will be equipped for rough field service and will be well supplied with arms and ammunition. Word was received from Austin that the state rangers are preparing to make a hurried march to the border. There are also a large force of special deputy marshals stationed at different points on the frontier, who have instructions to arrest all Mexicans suspected of being revolutionists.

Fifty-six longshoremen and carpenters employed by the Allan and Dominion Line steamship companies in Portland, Maine, received notice recently that they would have to go back to Canada, they having been brought here in violation of the Alien Contract Labor Act.

John Lottridge, one of those implicated in the Hislop murder by the Indian Goosey's confession, laughed when told of it, and said there was nothing in it. The crown, however, believes that it has the right parties, and Lottridge was arraigned in Hamilton on December 31st for murder.

Montreal Star: Commenting on the speech in the town hall, which is characterized as "entertaining throughout," our contemporary says: "Mr. Davin believes that the floor of parliament and not behind the closed doors of the caucus-room, is the proper place to air grievances; and it is a pity that all men are not of like opinion. The loss parliament is reduced to a machine to register the decisions of the caucus the better."

Toronto Mail: Mercer has not, judging by his record, the slightest spark of Liberalism in his composition. He is a political adventurer, and while wearing Liberal livery, he has done more injury to Liberalism than any Tory could possibly effect. If he could be quietly dispensed with it would be the salvation of the Liberal party just as the destruction of his methods would be the salvation of Quebec.

The vacancy to the parliamentary representation of North Lanark, caused by the elevation of J. Jamieson to the bench, was filled on December 31st by the election of Bennet Rosamond, Conservative, over R. J. Dowdall, Reformer, by a majority that will run from 300 to 400. Last March Judge Jamieson had a majority of 301. The full North Lanark returns, with the exception of one division, which will give Dowdall a small majority, give Rosamond 428 majority.

The Empire's Quebec correspondent of January 1st says: "Most stirring developments are daily being made in connection with the boudle transaction of the late government. It is now alleged that ex-Premier Mercer himself went to the Treasury department for letters of credit in favor of certain railways, and, having them in his possession, demanded a consideration to hand them over. This will be made a matter for investigation by a royal commission, which has been resolved upon to-day (Thursday) by the Cabinet, and will be named Monday."

The court of appeal of Albany, New York State, recently handed down the long expected decisions in the contested election cases which have been so bitterly fought by both the Democrats and the Republicans on account of the closeness of the legislature and the numerous important matters which will come before that body. The decisions were generally favorable to the Democrats. The state board of canvassers met and seated two Democrats and one Republican in the other contested district; the board declared there was no election. The above ending gives the Democrats a majority in both branches of the legislature.

Saskatchewan Herald: And now rumor has it that Mr. Chapleau has been shelved and the portfolio of minister of interior given to Mr. Meredith. But it will not do. The right of the West to be represented in the cabinet by having a minister in the department which has to deal almost exclusively with its interests is one it will not quietly forego. The western press, with the unanimity which marks it in all matters that affect the well-being of this half of the Dominion, no matter how they may differ on other points, is a feature in cabinet-making which Mr. Abbott cannot afford to overlook. With fourteen out of fifteen members elected to support the party of which he is the head, they are on every ground of fair play entitled to more consideration than men who couple every demand they make, no matter how unreasonable, with a threat of going into opposition if it is not granted. A western minister in a western department is what the people ask for.
